A feature article typically provides an in-depth treatment of either an application of control technology or a tutorial on some area of control theory, or an innovation in control education. IEEE Control Systems publishes a variety of columns. “Applications of Control” columns are industrially oriented summaries of innovations in control technology. “Focus on Education” typically describes some aspect of education such as novel control experiments. “Lecture Notes” can be theoretical in nature as long as they have clear tutorial value and intent. See recent issues for examples of these and other types of columns. Authors are encouraged to contact the editor-in-chief about the suitability of potential columns.

A detailed Author’s Guide, a sample formatted manuscript, and a LATEX template can be found at http://www.ieeecss.org/publications/csm/submissions. The specifications in this guide should be followed by all submissions.

IEEE Control Systems is a forum for the exchange of ideas of interest in the control systems community. The magazine promotes the professional welfare of control engineers, educators, practitioners, and researchers. With this mission statement in mind, IEEE Control Systems encourages submission of manuscripts, both feature articles and columns, on all aspects of control system technology.
